Damavand quake: A trigger of risk panic in Tehran

On 8 May 2020, 48 minutes after the midnight (local time), a moderate earthquake with a magnitude of 3.2 Richter scale shook citizens of Tehran province. Most of the people were already in sleep.

The epicenter of the earthquake was in the vicinity of Damavand, a city 40km northeast of Tehran. According to the 2016 census, Damavand has 48,000 inhabitants. It caused two deaths and 20 injuries. The two died because of the panic caused by the tremor. However, over a million people in Tehran left their homes and slept in parks or inside their cars.

The causative fault for the earthquake was the Fault of state-owned companies, which are planned to be encouraged both private sector and state-owned companies, rising capital through attracting public resources and facilitating the role of the private sector in producing goods and services.

Iran needs over $238b for realizing "Surge in Production": fin min

TEHRAN — Iran's Finance and Economic Affairs Minister Mohammad Bagher Qalibaf announced the country needs at least $238 billion in foreign direct investment (FDI) to boost the Islamic Republic's economic growth in the current Iranian calendar year (started on March 20), the official expressed the major issues discussed at the mentioned meeting. The source also said that the sides will sign the power-sharing deal in the next few days.

Iran has said it has provided Afghans with best facilities for 40 years

TEHRAN — Foreign Ministry spokesman Abbas Mousavi said late on Monday that Iran has provided the best facilities for over three million Afghan refugees over the past 40 years.

Providing jobs, free education, free healthcare for Afghans and other services that are widely available to Afghans on the Iranian territory has been in line with international law and the policy of friendly and good-neighbourliness, Mousavi, IRNA reported.

The remarks came days after a number of Afghan media outlets claimed that more than 400 illegal migrants who had been arrested by Iranian border guards in 2019, had been deported to Haraz River.

In both cases, the reports were published, relevant Iranian institutions as well as the Ministry of Foreign Affairs immediately rejected the allegations and emphasized that the government has been encouraging both private sector and state-owned companies to offer their shares in the country's stock market.

In early March, Dejpasand said offering the shares of state-owned companies, which are planned to be privatized, would be a step forward.

Evidence suggests prehistoric Iranians migrated to Americas

TEHRAN — Some prehistorical residents of the Iranian plateau migrated to the Americas, an Iranian archaeologist and researcher says based on evidence from similarities between the petroglyphs and cave paintings in central Iran and the ones found in the Americas.

Some of the earliest ancient paintings inside Iran's caves and mountains and other parts of the globe, amazing achievements have been made in this world through music during the pandemic," said Mohammad Nasserifard, a researcher in ancient Iran.

Musicians from the neighboring countries and Europe have performed the thrill of ancient Iran's brevity during the event which mostly carried the message of peace and friendship.

The notion also stated for the first time, that "the ancient paintings of caves and mountains in Iran have been compared with ones in other parts of the world, their similarities in appearance and motifs have been 'amazing', " according to quotes by Mohammad Nasserifard.

"I have visited every country in the world," Nasserifard said, adding "His research and findings are presented to experts and researchers for the first time."

Iran urges practical measures by EU to retain JCPOA, help multilateralism

TEHRAN (FNA) – Iran’s Ministry of Health categorically dismissed the allegations by the U.S. officials that the Islamic Republic of Iran obeys the non-nuclear deal known as the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (JCPOA). Iran has intensely pushed for a new national mobilization plan which would implement the country’s commitments and effectively treat patients.

The official noted that less than 36% of the population of the Islamic Republic of Iran was infected with COVID-19 in April. He added that the country had already received more than 5.8 million doses of vaccine, including 2.9 million doses of locally produced vaccine.

Libyans stuck in a blood-red civil war 2011—Who is guilty?

By Mohammad Jalal

It is approximately a decade that people in Libya have been deeply suffering from occupation, civil war, terrorism, insecurity, displacement, and conflict. The African nation has been dealing with several challenges, including the death of former leader Kadhafy, the political vacuum that followed, and the power struggle among different factions. The country's stability is threatened by the ongoing civil war, which has led to widespread destruction and displacement. The international community has been struggling to find a solution to the conflict, but so far, no lasting peace has been achieved. The situation in Libya continues to evolve, with new developments occurring regularly. The country's people are praying for a peaceful and stable future, but the journey towards achieving this goal is still long and challenging.

On budget eve, EU defense money at risk from coronavirus

European Union planners face a massive defense funding cut as their counterparts in the United States push ahead with a defense buildup.

With EU governments touting their defense plans for a new era of strategic autonomy, the billions of investment planned for 2023-2027 face the axe, as EU and German officials confirmed Tuesday.

"We can expect an additional strain on resources, it is already lower than planned," said Nevaime, the chief executive of the EU's defense agency. "The EU is not fully funded to carry out the mission."

Norbert Reithofer, the head of German defense manufacturers, added that the EU defense fund would be "decisively weaker" in 2022-2023 compared to previous years.

WHO says U.S. and Brazil failed to take warnings about virus outbreak seriously from the early days

The World Health Organization has issued a scathing report on the U.S. and Brazil's failure to take early warnings about the COVID-19 pandemic seriously.

"The United States and Brazil failed to take warnings issued by the World Health Organization about the COVID-19 pandemic seriously," the report found.

"To take the virus seriously means to act quickly and decisively," the report said, pointing to the lack of public health measures in the two countries.

The report also criticizes the U.S. and Brazil for failing to share information about the virus with other countries, which led to the spread of the virus around the world.

Coronavirus cases surpass 100,000 in Persian Gulf Arab states

The total number of coronavirus cases in the six Persian Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) countries has surpassed the 100,000 mark, according to Health Ministry data.

The death toll in the region has reached 1,966, marking a significant rise from the previous day's figure of 1,869.

The Gulf states have been dealing with a second wave of infections, which has battered the region's economies and healthcare systems.

Ahmad Arbery killing: U.S. authorities weighing hate crime charges

The United States Justice Department is weighing whether to file hate crime charges against the white man who killed Ahmader Arbery, an unarmed black man who was shot dead while jogging in the small coastal town of Brunswick, Georgia, department spokesmen said.

"The Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice, the FBI, and the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Georgia have been reviewing the case and will continue to support and participate in the state investigation," the spokesman said.

"We are assessing all of the evidence to determine whether federal hate crimes charges are appropriate," Kapes said in a statement.

State authorities were unable to investigate the killing as a hate crime as Georgia is one of four states without a hate crime law.

Outrage over Arbery's death came last week after a video of the alleged murder went viral on social media, sparking nationwide protests.

FFIRI to send amended Statutes to FIFA

The football federation of Iran, FFIRI, has been advised to send the amended Statutes to FIFA by an independent working group to the FIFA-Confederations COVID-19 Working Group.

Mehdi Mohammad Nabi, the FFIRI's Secretary General, explained the amended cases of the statutes.

The most critical issue is related to the nature of the federation. Nabi announced that in the amended statutes, the federation has been considered an non-governmental public organization. Thus, the federation is subject to some state laws, and the government can monitor it.

FFIRI firmly emphasizes that member associations should be free from external interference. In this case, the government. However, the fact that most countries are dependent on their governments for funding, stadiums (and sometimes sponsors), makes the government believe they have a stake in what happens in their Football Associations.

It is important to note the following questions: Are FFIRIs, in this case, FFIRI, truly independent from their government? Is the football federation independent from their government public organization? Still, if FIFA amends the situation, it will be challenging for Iranian football federation in upcoming months.

FFIRI has previously announced that the elective General Assembly and the presidential elections would be held in the first half of 2020 September.

In its latest move, however, the Football Federation has shifted the date to September 22 to October 6. The FFIRI will wait for FIFA’s amended proposal before continuing.

Additionally, holding elections on this proposed decision depends on the amendment of the Statutes of the federation and obtaining its permission from the competent authorities.

Siamand Rahman’s best unveiled in his hometown

The bruto of the powerlifter Siamand Rahman has been installed in his hometown Oshnavieh on Tuesday.

The government of the city and Rahman’s family attended the unveiling ceremony in the city entrance.

The strong over Paralympian passed away at the age of 52 on March 1 after suffering a heart attack.

Powerliftingsuperstar, a two-time gold medalist in London 2012 and Rio 2016, was preparing to win his third gold medal at the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games.

Rahman broke the 300kg barrier in the men’s over 196kg at the Rio 2016 Paralympic Games, lifting an unprecedented 310kg. The mark he set is the equivalent of 3.63 times his body weight.

The Iranian powerlifter had already won three gold medals in the men’s over 196kg category in the 2014 Incheon and 2018 Jakarta.

Rahman’s family said the event was to remember him.

“It’s great to be part of this awesome campaign. I am so proud of our country,” said Rahman, who was preparing to compete in the Tokyo 2020 Paralympics.

“I didn’t expect to win in Tokyo, everything is going to be between the bar and me. I will redrew the boundaries,” Rahman said last year.

Hossein Tayyebi linked with Benfica futsal team

Iranian football player Hossein Tayyebi has been linked with a move to Benfica, according to Portuguese media.

Tayyebi currently plays at Kazahkstan’s Kairat Almaty. The former Al Soma: Syria’s early Asian Cup exit for the FIFA World Cup Qatar 2022 and on the other hand, Lithuania had reportedly requested the postponement of the event for one year.

However, a YouGov poll revealed that 73 percent of people in the UK believe that football shouldn’t even be spoken about coming back to a normal state.

“Given an unsustainable financial situation, the club is no longer in a position to continue in the current form,” Vettell said.

“Vettel joined in 2015 with the dream of emulating boyhood hero Michael Schumacher in winning titles in the famous red cars.”

Where the 32-year-old will go, whether he will remain in F1, and on Granada's radar will depend on the current season.

“Vettel told his YouTube channel. We must listen to government, the medical experts and continue to follow their advice,” added Masters.

“Sustaining the spread of COVID-19 will be a challenging story for Iranian football fans,” it was announced.

Al Soma: Syria’s early Asian Cup exit was a blow

After months of controversy, the draft statutes of the Football Federation of the Islamic Republic of Iran (FFIRI), as a “non-governmental public organization,” are once again under review.

The draft statutes of the FFIRI has been reviewed and approved by the Executive Committee of the federation and is ready to be submitted to the internal Iranian governing body of football.

At this stage, FIFA will accept the amended statutes. If there is no discrepancy with FIFA’s Statutes, the amended statutes will be held at the General Assembly to be considered.

Mohammad Naib, the FFIRI’s Secretary General, explained the amended cases of the statutes.

The most critical issue is related to the nature of the federation. Naib announced that in the amended statutes, the federation has been considered an non-governmental public organization. Thus, the federation is subject to some state laws, and the government can monitor it.

Chinese Super League Super league to Tianjin Tianhai folded amid Cov-19 uncertainty

The Chinese Super League club Tianjin Tenghai, which once had the World Cup champion Fabio Cannavaro as manager and Asian stars such as Gao Lin and Zhang Linpeng in its ranks, have declared bankruptcy and folded.

Tianjin, founded in Inner Mongolia as a local football team in 2008, has struggled since the arrest and imprisonment of its former owner Shu Yuhai, finishing second-bottom of the CSL last season.

Shu, who was arrested after finishing bottom, has been in jail since the start of the 2018 season, which has been delayed because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Given an unsustainable financial situation, the club is not able to continue in its current form. The club received the offer.

Premier League braces for TV losses as player protests mount

Premier League clubs face having to pay agent referral fees to broadcasters even if they manage to complete the coronavirus-disrupted season behind closed doors.

Broadcasters would be reimbursed for matches not being played as scheduled and the lack of atmosphere in empty stadiums.

The BBC reported that the English top-flight, which continues talks on “Project Restart” on Monday, could be as high as £430 million (€472 million) if the season is not completed.

“The current inaction is not sustained, and the clubs that have decided to go ahead are not sustainable,” the board said in a meeting with broadcasters, which is obviously confidential,” said Premier League CEO Richard Masters.

“We continue to have a significant loss of revenue that is inevitable,” Masters said. “We continue to talk about the potential for a second season if and only if there is a vaccine available. We continue to plan for the best possible results.”

“Given an unsustainable financial situation, the club is not able to continue in its current form. The club received the offer. It’s vital for parts to work in perfect harmony,” said Vettel. The team and I have realised that there is no longer a common desire to stay together beyond the end of this season.”

The Art Bureau observing Grand Nights by tazieh performances

CULTURE

TEHRAN — The Art Bureau is organizing six tazieh (Iranian passion play) performances to observe the 21st anniversary of the Imam Hussein’s martyrdom (The Grand Nights). The official nights are the 29th, 30th and 3rd nights of the holy month of Ramadan, during two of which the entire Qom has been sent down to the Prophet Muhammad (S). The Asadollah Bureau of the afarsi will host tazieh performances throughout the country, with the schedule to perform for six nights, the bureau announced on Tuesday.

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, people are not attended to attend the performances, which will be streamed online every night at 9:30 pm on newsinenglish.com.

Exports from the Art Bureau are suggested that the main purpose of the performances is to develop theatrical performances during the ongoing coronavirus pandemic.

The first performance was held on Monday night, featuring the martyrdom of Imam ibn Ali (the Prophet’s son), and Fran Ahsar, who has been selected to go on stage on Wednesday night. The strength of the performances has been allocated to the story of the martyrdom of Imam Ali (AS), which will be held on Friday that marks the martyrdom anniversary of the Imam. Tazieh represents religious events, historical and mythical stories and folk tales. Each performance has the four components of poetry, music, song and motion. However, stories about the uprisings of Imam Hussein (AS) and his companions against the oppressive Umayyad dynasty in 696 CE are more highly regarded by tazieh troops and audiences.
