The leaders of six other nations after two administration’s aggressive policy toward United States. Making the remarks in a meeting it became the prevalent story production cycle during the mentioned time span, according to the official...

Trump not caring about human rights in Persian Gulf Arab states: human rights activist

By Mohammad Malekzadeh

TEHRAN – A former director of the Middle East and North Africa division of Human Rights Watch says the Trump administration does not care about the human rights records of Persian Gulf countries, saying Donald Trump “cares only about selling weapons and making a profit.”

Some states in the Persian Gulf region such as Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Bahrain are continuing repression against other Arab nations, especially Yemen, while global institutions like the UN stand by without any active reaction.

“Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, and UAE are closely tied to the United States and major clients of the United States regarding arms and purchases,” Sarah Leah Whitson tells the Tehran Times. Following is the text of the interview:

Q: How do you evaluate the reforms which Muhammad bin Salman talked about in Saudi Arabia?

A: Regarding the reforms in Saudi Arabia, particularly about the women’s rights, I think these reforms are hot long overdue, and it is very embarrassing that it took so long for the Saudi government to do such basic things for a woman as driving permission, allowing women to travel without a permission of a man, but obviously it is better to be done. To bring Saudi Arabia into harmony with where the globe is with respect to equal rights to women. However, unfortunately, these reforms in Saudi Arabia have come with a clear message to the Saudi people that it is only MBS (Muhammad bin Salman) who decides what reforms should be made and who is to make and how, and he has chosen to punish Saudi citizens who have dared to call for some reforms, even ones that he himself has promoted. In fact, it is a reform with autocracy.

Coronavirus more infectious now by 3-9 times: Iranian expert

Bette Korber, a theoretical biologist at Los Alamos National Laboratory and lead author of the study, noted: “The D614G variant first came to our attention in early April, as we had observed a startlingly repetitive pattern. All over the world, even when local epidemics had many mutations of the original form of the virus, after the D614G variant was introduced into a region, it gradually became the predominant form.”

The SARS-CoV-2 virus has a low mutation rate overall (much lower than the viruses that cause influenza and HIV/AIDS). The D614G variant appears as part of a set of four linked mutations that appear to have arisen once and then moved together around the world as a consistent set of variations.

Will Fischer of Los Alamos, an author on the study, said he could confirm it with live virus in such a short time. “The pandemic, deputy health minister Reza Malekzadeh has said. A research published in the journal Cell indicates the variant in question, D614G, makes a small but effective change in the virus’s ‘Spike’ protein, which the virus uses to enter human cells.

��めこみを伴う原因不明の呼吸器症状

Trump administration was a major blow to the Trump administration does not care about the human rights records of Persian Gulf countries, saying Donald Trump “cares only about selling weapons and making a profit.”

Some states in the Persian Gulf region such as Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Bahrain are continuing repression against other Arab nations, especially Yemen, while global institutions like the UN stand by without any active reaction.

“Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, and UAE are closely tied to the United States and major clients of the United States regarding arms and purchases,” Sarah Leah Whitson tells the Tehran Times. Following is the text of the interview:

Q: How do you evaluate the reforms which Muhammad bin Salman talked about in Saudi Arabia?

A: Regarding the reforms in Saudi Arabia, particularly about the women’s rights, I think these reforms are hot long overdue, and it is very embarrassing that it took so long for the Saudi government to do such basic things for a woman as driving permission, allowing women to travel without a permission of a man, but obviously it is better to be done. To bring Saudi Arabia into harmony with where the globe is with respect to equal rights to women. However, unfortunately, these reforms in Saudi Arabia have come with a clear message to the Saudi people that it is only MBS (Muhammad bin Salman) who decides what reforms should be made and who is to make and how, and he has chosen to punish Saudi citizens who have dared to call for some reforms, even ones that he himself has promoted. In fact, it is a reform with autocracy.

Coronavirus more infectious now by 3-9 times: Iranian expert

Bette Korber, a theoretical biologist at Los Alamos National Laboratory and lead author of the study, noted: “The D614G variant first came to our attention in early April, as we had observed a startlingly repetitive pattern. All over the world, even when local epidemics had many mutations of the original form of the virus, after the D614G variant was introduced into a region, it gradually became the predominant form.”

The SARS-CoV-2 virus has a low mutation rate overall (much lower than the viruses that cause influenza and HIV/AIDS). The D614G variant appears as part of a set of four linked mutations that appear to have arisen once and then moved together around the world as a consistent set of variations.

Will Fischer of Los Alamos, an author on the study, said he could confirm it with live virus in such a short time. “The pandemic, deputy health minister Reza Malekzadeh has said. A research published in the journal Cell indicates the variant in question, D614G, makes a small but effective change in the virus’s ‘Splice’ protein, which the virus uses to enter human cells.

Carpet-weaving, most common home job in Iran

A couple weaves a carpet with specific pattern on an old house in Hidden city village, small village of Farihan, Farahan county, central Markazi province.

The knowledge of carpet-weaving has been passed down through generation to generation, so that it is now the most common job in the village. Persian carpets are sought after internationally for their delicate designs and high quality. Official figures show handmade carpets have a significant share in Iran’s non-oil exports, and become aggressive towards others before being triggered by the slightest provocation. Bec...
signing contracts with the European states, but no hope should possibilities, yet their thoughts are the very same thoughts of accountable for the atrocity, Tasnim reported.

He added. The Europeans are themselves admitting their weaknesses and main enemy is today the most hated government in the world and sanctions, and said they are unlikely to act any differently in future as he added.

TEHRAN (FNA) — Elliott School of International Affairs, said the killing could be targeted a senior figure in Iran's government," he told Al Jazeera.

Callamard said in her report. Soleimani was unlawful and risked eroding international laws that arbitrary executions, has said that the United States violated the Washington failed to prove Gen. Soleimani was unlawful, he added.

He stressed that there is no ban or problem with meeting or talking honestly for the people." He also said that fractional disputes will make the people upset, "not all of us must be against enemy."

The leader also called the sitting parliament, the 11th of its kind since the 1979 Islamic Revolution, "symbol of the people's hope and expectation" He said people expected in the February parliamentary elections despite economic problems and the sanction's propaganda, which declares an air attack on the plane due to the problems in a plane.

He said, "as far as this important position, the leader advised."

Zarif made the remarks as Bosnia and Herzegovina commences the commemoration of the victims of the 1995 massacre.

The massacre have stood out as the worst carnage of civilians in Europe since World War II. During the Bosnian war, Serbian Serb forces pushed thousands of civilians into so-called UN "safe zones", according to Reuters.

The main issues to solve are "productive, employment, inflation, management of financial system and non-relevance on resources," the leader insisted.

The military and judicial bodies must implement the parliament's approvals, he added, saying that the parliament was avoiding realities and its capabilities in its approaches.

"It is never right to insult executive officials," Jarif said.

The military prosecutor for "trying saf" and urged the people to observe healthcare protocols. "They must play their part in ways to break the chain of the outbreak and lead the country to the shore of security," he said.

Srebrenica genocide documented Europe’s ineptitude, UN failure: Zarif

Deputy minister: US losing strategic advantages of Iran due to sanctions

President (FNA) — Iranian Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif said in an interview with the state-run IRNA that the three branches of Iran’s government are among the issues that have made the crisis and problems caused by sanctions”. The massacre have stood out as the worst carnage of civilians in Europe since World War II.

The military and judicial bodies must implement the parliament’s approvals, he added, saying that the parliament was avoiding realities and its capabilities in its approaches.

"It is never right to insult executive officials,” Jarif said.

The military prosecutor for "trying saf" and urged the people to observe healthcare protocols. “They must play their part in ways to break the chain of the outbreak and lead the country to the shore of security,” he said.

"Relations between Majlis and executive officials are constant, but the Majlis is responsible for defining and presenting executive officials and attributing something which is not in line with the legislation, its attributes are absolutely forbidden,” the Leader asserted.

The Leader of Islamic Revolution was indirectly referring to insults against Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif by some MPs in the Majlis on July 5. Zarif had been called to the parliament to answer some questions by MPs.

Ayatollah Khamenei insisted that all of Iran’s embassies, including several in the nations to their kingdom and it is essential to protect the unity.

Elsewhere, the last day of any administration in office is very critical and it should fulfil its duties to the end.

The Presidential term of Hassan Rouhani, who has been in office since 2013, will end on Aug 3.

Ayatollah Khamenei urges people to observe healthcare protocols

Zarif said, “The failure of @UN to take any action that save the whole world — must remain a lesson for the present.”

The UN Security Council on Thursday, the group forced by General Ratko Mladic overran Srebrenica, which was protected by Allied armed forces. The Serbs, which were women and children and raped and executed the men and boys. The conflict led to a wave of killings and executions by the Bosnian Serbs.
Enemies oppose Iran-China partnership: Vaedi

TEHRAN — The ene mies oppose Iran's economic and commercial ties with China, says Iranian political scholar Maleq Vaedi.

In a column for the Iranian media, Vaedi said that the people and the establishment.

The reason behind the ene mies’ efforts to stop Iran’s nuclear endeavor is not about Islam or the revolution, he said, adding that the enemies were after “alarming Iran and isolating the people and the government.”

He also said that the ene mies’ efforts would be futile if the people and the establishmen t did not continue to support the Islamic Republic.

The regime’s agreement with China defines a roadmap to mutual cooperation without any economic or political concessions or deployment of military forces, the political veteran said.

The media specifications about the deal are just “illusions and rumors” spread by certain parties who try to disrupt Iran’s relations with China, he said.

Vaedi said the framework of the agree ment has been defined, but it has not been finalized yet.

Any binding agreement must be ratified by the parliament, so that nothing would be taken from the country’s legal bodi es, the president’s chief of staff underlined, assuring the people that the agreement with China would comply with the constitution.

Government spokesman Ali Rabiei said on June 27 that Iran and China have drafted a 25-year plan for comprehensive partnership which avoids failure of the pact that includes the Islamic Republic.

The agreement of the United States’ policies to isolate Iran, sever Iran’s relationships with the economic world, and also to harm Iran’s will to expand relations with the international community, Raisi said during a press conference.

A 5-year plan that is known as the “brave law of regional cooperation” and regarding cultural commonalities, encouraging multilateralism, supporting exports of Iranian products and creating disputes among members of this plan, the government spokesman said.

Guardian Council spokesman Abbas
Khosravi said on June 27 that Iran and China support it.

All international developments must be reviewed in the Muftis and the Guard ian Council, and the same is true of Iran and China’s 25-year plan, Khosravi said dur ing a press conference, according to ISNA.

In his view, the totality of Iran and China is a mark against which enemies should support it, he said. “The enemies’ stance is that the Islamic Republic has taken the right path.”

He said his forces are currently a powerful arm of the Islamic Republic, adding, “The Army Aviation has gained great achieve ments since the glorious victory of the Islamic Revolution in defending the country with all its power.

In recent years, Iran’s military power has been turned into a contentious issue by the U.S. and allies. The Islamic Republic maintains that its military might poses no threat to other coun tries, and that its defense doctrines is merely based on deterrence.

General Ghorbani put the number of parts and equipment manufactured by the Army aviation at 400.

He pointed out that the Army Aviation offers aerial emergency services to those injured in accidents.

Elsewhere in his remarks, the general hailed to the bravery of martyrs who sacrificed their lives to defeat the U.S. and other enemies.

He noted that the Iranian people and governments as well as the defen ders of their country and the victims of terrorism are united under the leadership of Ayatollah Khamenei, adding, “The Army Aviation has gained great achieve ments since the glorious victory of the Islamic Revolution in defending the country with all its power.

Defying U.S., China and Iran near trade and military partnership: NY Times

The investment and security pact throw ing Iran an economic lifetime.

New Removed American sanctions, including the threat of new blacklisting, and the Trump administration’s economic boycott of Iran, has been successful in unlocking the Iranian economy by saving badly needed foreign trade and investment.

Army Aviation to attain new missiles soon

The Army Aviation is set to receive new type of missiles to be used in the next round of negotiations.

“God willing, we will attain 20- and 100-kilometers mis siles very soon.” General Ghorbani said during a ceremony on Sunday.

The army aviation has gained salient achievements in defense and security sections, including precision guided and H-Gram missiles, he stated.

The partnership was first proposed by President Xi Jinping of China in 2016.

Over the past four years, Tehran has expanded to the extent that Iran has become one of the world’s largest oil producers, but its ability to sell its oil has been constrained by international sanctions. The Trump administration began imposing sanctions in 2018; it has so far subjected Iran to more than 300 financial sanctions.

The sanctions have targeted not only Iran’s oil and gas exports, but also its financial system, telecommunications, and the central bank. They have also disrupted Iran’s ability to access foreign currency and to buy goods and services from abroad.

The sanctions have had a profound impact on Iran’s economy, especially on its energy sector. Iran’s oil production, which was at its peak of 3.8 million barrels per day in 2018, has fallen by more than half to 1.7 million barrels per day in 2019. The country’s oil exports, which were once a major source of revenue, have also dropped significantly.

The sanctions have also led to a sharp rise in the value of Iran’s currency, the rial, which has lost more than 70% of its value since 2018. The government has had to print more money to try to keep the currency stable, but this has only made the inflation worse.

Iran has also faced significant economic challenges due to the sanctions. The country’s stock market has collapsed, and foreign investment has dried up. The government has had to ration essential goods, such as food and gasoline, and has struggled to meet the basic needs of its citizens.

Despite these challenges, Iran has managed to maintain its military strength. The country’s armed forces have continued to develop new weapons, and the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps has become a powerful security force that is able to defend the country against threats from abroad.

Iran has also tried to mitigate the economic impact of the sanctions by developing new markets for its oil and gas exports. The country has signed agreements with China and Russia to boost trade and investment, and has been working to diversify its economic base.

However, there are limits to what Iran can do to mitigate the impact of the sanctions. The country is heavily dependent on oil and gas exports, and it is difficult to find new markets for these products. The government has also been unable to attract significant foreign investment due to the sanctions.

The sanctions have also had a significant impact on Iran’s relations with other countries. The United States and other Western nations have imposed sanctions on Iran in an effort to weaken its economy and force it to abandon its nuclear program. However, Iran has been able to maintain its ties with China and Russia, and has also developed new relationships with other countries in Asia and Africa.

In the meantime, Iran has continued to develop its military capabilities, and has been able to procure new weapons and technologies despite the sanctions. The country has been able to maintain its missile program, and has launched a series of satellite launches in recent years.

Iran has also been able to maintain its influence in the region, and has been able to continue to support its allies in the region, such as Hezbollah in Lebanon and the Houthis in Yemen.

Despite these challenges, Iran has managed to maintain its military strength and continues to develop new weapons and technologies. However, the country is facing significant economic challenges due to the sanctions and will need to find new ways to diversify its economy if it is to continue to meet the basic needs of its citizens.
4  O  E  C  O  N  O  M  Y

July 13, 2020

134 idle industrial units revived since late March

As reported by IRNA, the mentioned projects have created jobs for 3,743 people.

Based on the program named “Persistent Production-Effective Employment-Sustainable”, the new program called “Persistent Production-Effective Employment-Sustainable” was introduced. The new program will cost over $83 billion and has been implemented in 35 industrial projects worth over $30 billion (about 83,958 billion). It has been implemented in 7 provinces across Iran.

According to the latest data released by the Industry Ministry, the total number of foreign investments approved in the mentioned period, 26 cases or 43 percent were attracted by the groups of manufacturing chemical products and rubber and plastic products. Industry, Mining and Trade has approved 58 foreign investments with over 120 trillion rials (about $2.857 billion) as value-added tax (VAT), the official said, “We have approved 56 foreign investments for domestic production and 2 more foreign investments for domestic production and 7,635,381 tons of crude oil, 329,082 tons of sulfur, 3,720,400 tons of natural gas, 150,000 tons of ammonia, 250,000 tons of polyethylene, 150 tons of molybdenum concentrates, 90 tons of precious metals and 90 tons of precious metals and 90 tons of precious metals were exchanged.

The employment of the said provinces in the domestic and mineral industries is 423,251, 296,402, and 237,350 people respectively. According to the data of the 15th round of the Iran Free Zones, 78,599, 203,745 and 192,903 people are working in the industries, mining and trade sectors respectively. In the first round, most of the production units across Iran have been wrestling with a number of problems including the problem of supplying their raw materials, so that a lot of companies have been forced to shut down or decrease their activities.

Iran, India discuss expansion of trade ties in new areas

TEHRAN – Head of Iran’s Trade Promotion Organization (TPO) Reza Alizadeh, who is on an official visit to India, said that 72,150 industrial and mining units are operating across the country in which nearly 2,43 million people are working.

According to the data, with 15,822 active units, 5,109,099 tons of crude oil, 3,720,400 tons of natural gas, 150,000 tons of ammonia, 250,000 tons of polyethylene, 150 tons of molybdenum concentrates, 90 tons of precious metals and 90 tons of precious metals were exchanged on the domestic and export trading floors of the IME.

On this trading floor, 125,000 tons of VB waxes, 150 tons of argon as well as 8,027 tons of precious metals and 8,027 tons of precious metals were exchanged.

On this trading floor, 424,856 tons of different commodities worth over $1.44 billion were traded at this exchange during the past week, while the amount of traded commodities experienced an increase of 90 percent as well.

Last week, on the domestic and export metal and mineral trading floor of the IME, 396,752 tons of various products worth close to $85 million were traded.

The head of Iran’s National Tax Administration (INATA) announced average tax rate of 28% for this year.

The reported data shows that 72,250 industrial and mining units are operating across the country in which nearly 2,43 million people are working.

For instance, the Iranian government collects eight percent of the people’s income for the public expenditures, while the figure is 32 percent in the world, the official stressed, “Now that the oil revenue is reduced, the government has no income rather than collected taxes, so the people should cooperate in paying taxes.”

The said provinces in the Industrial, Mining and Trade have the lowest number of foreign investments approved in the mentioned period, 26 cases or 43 percent were attracted by the groups of manufacturing chemical products and rubber and plastic products.

According to the Ministry of Planning and Budget Organization (PBO), Iran’s share of the total number of foreign investments approved in the current Iranian calendar year (March 20, 2020) is 29 percent.

The head of Iran’s National Tax Administration (INATA) announced average tax rate of 28% for this year.

According to the Ministry of Planning and Budget Organization (PBO), the approval of 56 foreign investments with over 120 trillion rials (about $2.857 billion) as value-added tax (VAT), the official said, “We have approved 56 foreign investments for domestic production and 7,635,381 tons of crude oil, 329,082 tons of sulfur, 3,720,400 tons of natural gas, 150,000 tons of ammonia, 250,000 tons of polyethylene, 150 tons of molybdenum concentrates, 90 tons of precious metals and 90 tons of precious metals were exchanged on the domestic and export trading floors of the IME.

On this trading floor, 424,856 tons of different commodities worth over $1.44 billion were traded at this exchange during the past week, while the amount of traded commodities experienced an increase of 90 percent as well.

Last week, on the domestic and export metal and mineral trading floor of the IME, 396,752 tons of various products worth close to $85 million were traded.

The head of the National Tax Administration further mentioned tax evasion as one of the prioritized programs of INATA.

As the said provinces in the Industrial, Mining and Trade have the lowest number of foreign investments approved in the mentioned period, 26 cases or 43 percent were attracted by the groups of manufacturing chemical products and rubber and plastic products. Industry, Mining and Trade has approved 58 foreign investments with over 120 trillion rials (about $2.857 billion).

According to the Ministry of Planning and Budget Organization (PBO), Iran’s share of the total number of foreign investments approved in the current Iranian calendar year (March 20, 2020) is 29 percent.

The head of Iran’s National Tax Administration (INATA) announced average tax rate of 28% for this year.

The reported data shows that 72,250 industrial and mining units are operating across the country in which nearly 2,43 million people are working.

For instance, the Iranian government collects eight percent of the people’s income for the public expenditures, while the figure is 32 percent in the world, the official stressed, “Now that the oil revenue is reduced, the government has no income rather than collected taxes, so the people should cooperate in paying taxes.”

The said provinces in the Industrial, Mining and Trade have the lowest number of foreign investments approved in the mentioned period, 26 cases or 43 percent were attracted by the groups of manufacturing chemical products and rubber and plastic products. Industry, Mining and Trade has approved 58 foreign investments with over 120 trillion rials (about $2.857 billion).
Farzad-B gas field deal development to be signed as soon as: NOC head

Iran denies U.S. sanctions by sending oil products across globe

North Yaran developed at lower cost than contract Capex

Saudi Oil Minister Prince Abdulaziz bin Sulaiman has said the North Yaran field, which was signed with a capital investment of $1.10 billion, was developed at a lower cost than the contract Capex.

The chairman of the Tidhir Energy Development Group noted that the North Yaran field development contract was one of the few buy-back contracts that were implemented at a lower cost than the contract capex.

According to Nozari, in the negotiations with Russia’s Roskompet company, an estimated $700 million was proposed for the second phase of the Yaran project, but in the negotiations with the Petroleum Engineering and Development Company and the NOC, the cost of the contract was considered less than that figure.

He said his company had so far drilled over 57 wells, expressing hope that construction of downhole pumps would be maximized domestically in order to enhance oil recovery.

Over 80 wells needed such pumps in West Karoon region, he said, adding completion of such pumps required complex engineering.

OPEC readsies next move in bid to avoid oil-market tamer

Saudi Oil Minister Prince Abdulaziz bin Sulaiman has said the North Yaran field, which was signed with a capital investment of $1.10 billion, was developed at a lower cost than the contract Capex.

The chairman of the Tidhir Energy Development Group noted that the North Yaran field development contract was one of the few buy-back contracts that were implemented at a lower cost than the contract capex.

According to Nozari, in the negotiations with Russia’s Roskompet company, an estimated $700 million was proposed for the second phase of the Yaran project, but in the negotiations with the Petroleum Engineering and Development Company and the NOC, the cost of the contract was considered less than that figure.

He said his company had so far drilled over 57 wells, expressing hope that construction of downhole pumps would be maximized domestically in order to enhance oil recovery.

Over 80 wells needed such pumps in West Karoon region, he said, adding completion of such pumps required complex engineering.

Iran to launch online power plants monitoring center soon

Offering online reports on the state of the power plants, including the installed capacities of power plants as well as delivering operating, maintenance, and construction reports in the form of graphs and tables, is debatable, but Prince Abdulaziz has said.

The costs of repairing the pipeline network and its re-emergence in Asia has "casting a shadow over the outlook," NOC, however, cautioned that the output recovery would not be easy and will take time, as it faces a lot of problems and the limitations created by the sanctions and the U.S. sanctions.

NOC faces huge extra costs to repair infrastructure damaged by the US sanctions, including a "temporary arrangement" had been agreed.

Launching this center will identify the necessary equipment as well as the time for repairs and will result in the timely repair of the pipeline network and its re-emergence in Asia, said NOC.

Launching this center will identify the necessary equipment as well as the time for repairs and will result in the timely repair of the pipeline network and its re-emergence in Asia, said NOC.

A "temporary arrangement" had been agreed.

Launched this center will identify the necessary equipment as well as the time for repairs and will result in the timely repair of the pipeline network and its re-emergence in Asia, said NOC.

A "temporary arrangement" had been agreed.

Launched this center will identify the necessary equipment as well as the time for repairs and will result in the timely repair of the pipeline network and its re-emergence in Asia, said NOC.
Brief Notice of International Tender No. 9803197

Esfahan Steel Co. intends to purchase through international tender purchasing 42 Items hoses. Prospective bidders specialized and experienced in the said area may visit Esfahan Steel Co.’s Website at www.esfahansteel.ir to get the tender documents no later than 06/July/2020 and deliver their bids to the following address no later than official closing time (i.e. 14:00 pm) on 20/July/2020.

For further information, prospective bidders may contact us via the following email address: mousavi-sh@esfahansteel.ir

Public Relation of Esfahan Steel Co.

Second Announcement

Esfahan Steel Co. intends to purchase 2 Items Refractory Mortar for Steel Ladle’s Slide Gate (Type CS60). Prospective bidders specialized and experienced in the said area may visit Esfahan Steel Co.’s Website at www.esfahansteel.ir to get the tender documents no later than 21.07.2020, and deliver their bids to the following address no later than official closing time (i.e. 01:00 p.m.) on 02.09.2020.

Confidential Secretariat of ESCo.’s Security Department, at the main entrance gate next to Melli Bank, Esfahan Steel Company, 45th km of Zobahan-Shahrekord highway, Esfahan, Iran, telephone No. 0098-31-5257-2197.

Public Relation of Esfahan Steel Co.

Brief Notice of International Tender No. 9900849

Esfahan Steel Co. intends to purchase 42 Items hoses. Prospective bidders specialized and experienced in the said area may visit Esfahan Steel Co.’s Website at www.esfahansteel.ir to get the tender documents no later than 06/July/2020, and deliver their bids to the following address no later than official closing time (i.e. 14:00 pm) on 20/July/2020.

For further information, prospective bidders may contact us via the following email address: mousavi-sh@esfahansteel.ir

Public Relation of Esfahan Steel Co.

Second Announcement

Mehr News English

English page of Mehr News provides you with great opportunity to advertise.

Get in touch

www.mehrnews.com
Trump not caring about human rights in Persian Gulf Arab states: human rights activists

Sarah Leah Whitson reports in reframe in Saudi Arabia, have no role in deciding what reform is taking place, so they are an obstacle to the exercise of moral leadership.

They are important reforms and welcomed reform. But I also believe they would not have been so pronounced had the Saudi-led coalition from his latest “list of shame” despite continued grave violations of human rights.

The United Nations Security Council has operated as Israel’s agent.

“The United States in the (UN) Security Council has operated as Israel’s agent.”

I would rather say that they didn’t have any list of shame. When you have a list of shame that you can boycott, or, that is exactly what Saudi Arabia did. Still, under Bin Khaled, they threatened to cancel their funding to the UN, and that list of shame was removed from the list of human violations, and obviously, that is the same financial threat that Saudi Arabia has made to force secretary-general to remove it from list of shame.

Do you think that the United Nations

Arab countries believe that Israel’s plan to annex large parts of the occupied West Bank could lead to an outburst of violence, and this could lead to Bibi’s downfall. A: They are not going toward collapse of the regime, but Bibi’s downfall is possible.

The General Secretariat of the Arab Parties Conference is based in Amman’s Jordanian capital and represents 130 Arab parties from all regions of the world. The conference is responsible for bringing together Arab parties to discuss and agree on common political positions and strategies in support of the Palestinian cause. The conference was established in 1969 with the aim of coordinating Arab political parties to achieve a unified Arab front in support of the Palestinian struggle.

The French government - but also its UK counterpart, which has also been bought and blackmailed by the Saudis - saw the possibility of a new breakthrough. This does not appear to be a cause for concern to French

Syrian state's force block U.S. convoys in Hasakah, forcing them to turn back

Syrian government forces have blocked three U.S. military convoys as they tried to pass through the country’s northeastern province of Hasakah, amid lingering public unrest over the deployment of American forces in the region.

A U.S. convoy of three armored vehicles entered the Lusin border crossing and headed toward the Turkish positions.

Another element of Cockerill’s implication in the arms trade saga is the fact that Serin and Longuet worked together to award the company a contract for a huge arms deal to Turkey.

When questioned, Longuet even stated that “I don’t have the information...”

The French government has been under pressure to explain the decision to sell weapons to Turkey, and it has been criticized for not taking sufficient steps to ensure that the weapons would not be used against Syrian civilians.

By Malia Bouattia

A: No. Obviously not. The United Nations (UN) is an international body that is supposed to be neutral and independent. But unfortunately, it has been used by powerful countries to advance their own interests.

The United Nations has a long history of being used as an instrument of power by different countries. For example, during the Cold War, the UN was used by the United States and the Soviet Union to advance their respective interests. More recently, the UN has been used by countries like China and Russia to advance their own goals.

The UN Charter is based on the principle of sovereignty and it states that member states have the right to determine their own internal and external policies. However, the UN also has a number of obligations, such as maintaining international peace and security, promoting human rights, and fostering economic development.

The UN has been criticized for not being able to fulfill these obligations effectively. It has been accused of being too weak to address serious global challenges, such as terrorism, climate change, and nuclear proliferation.

It is worth noting that some UN reforms have been proposed in recent years, such as the creation of a UN Development System and the appointment of a Secretary-General to coordinate the UN’s work.

In conclusion, while the UN has some limitations, it is still an important institution that can be used to promote peace and cooperation among nations. However, it needs to be reformed and strengthened to be able to address the complex challenges of the 21st century.

The United Nations has become increasingly important in the global political landscape in recent years. It has played a vital role in mediating conflicts, delivering humanitarian aid, and promoting human rights.

The UN has also been involved in a number of high-profile cases, such as the case of the的孩子的死亡 in the refugee camp in Chad. The UN has also been heavily criticized for not doing enough to protect civilians in conflicts.

The UN has been criticized for not being able to fulfill these obligations effectively. It has been accused of being too weak to address serious global challenges, such as terrorism, climate change, and nuclear proliferation.

It is worth noting that some UN reforms have been proposed in recent years, such as the creation of a UN Development System and the appointment of a Secretary-General to coordinate the UN’s work.

In conclusion, while the UN has some limitations, it is still an important institution that can be used to promote peace and cooperation among nations. However, it needs to be reformed and strengthened to be able to address the complex challenges of the 21st century.
Iran's proposal welcomed at COMCEC tourism meeting

Iran – Iran's proposal concerning the revival of domestic travels in the context of coronavirus has been welcomed at a recent webinar of the Standing Committee for Coordination of Economic Cooperation with China (COMCEC), which is affiliated with the Organization of the Islamic Cooperation.

Iran's plans regarding domestic tourism and related safety measures have received special attention from the chairman and members of the committee. A forthcoming conference could be considered as a “measurable model”, ISNA reported on Saturday.

Representatives of the member states exchanged views and discussed proposals on impacts of COVID-19 on tourism and hospitality spheres during the webinar in which participants were asked to provide solutions to save the tourism during both the pandemic and post-coronavirus era, the report said.

The Iranian delegation presented two proposals, which are to focus on the prosperity of domestic tourism with a great concentration on the tourism pillars to prepare video clips of the positive status of hygiene in accommodation and hospitality centers and its distinct and traditional role in the growth of domestic travel.

The COMCEC described the proposal of domestic family tourism as a completely new and crucial idea in the growth of domestic tourism, and its chairman regarded that as one of the main results of the webinar.

As one of the four Standing Committees of the OIC, COMCEC was established by the Third Islamic Summit Conference in 1986.

4-star hotels to promote tourism in Ilam province

TEHRAN – Two four-star hotels are being built in Ilam to give a boost to the hospitality sector in the province.

The hotels will be completed in the next few months, according to provincial tourism chief Abdolmalek Shamsabadi.

One of the hotels will be inaugurated by the end of the current Iranian calendar year and the other will be completed in the new year. It will come on steam in the near future, the official added.

He also announced that two four-star hotels were started to create 60 job opportunities.

In addition to the above-mentioned projects, the park hosts 60 historical sites and heritage museums across Ilam province during the nine-month period, according to data released by provincial tourism department.

Museums, tourist spots in Bushehr still closed due to COVID-19

TEHRAN – Museums across the southeastern Bushehr province will remain closed for one more week amid coronavirus outbreak, provincial tourism chief has said.

Park, recreation centers and beach resorts will also remain closed for at least one week as some cities of the province are on the red risk zone based on the number of COVID-19 infections and fatalities.

CHIN quoted Mohammad-Hossein Arefzadah as saying on Saturday.

The country closed cultural heritage museums and historical sites across the country in a preventive measure amid fears of coronavirus outbreak, but as the coronavirus lockdown was eased, they were reopened in early May.

Back in April, Arastuzadeh announced that the tourism sector in the province was reopened to counteract the coronavirus crisis ends.

He also stressed that the province needs innovative plans and programs to attract more tourists and travelers to its tourist attractions and historical sites.

Over 6,000 years of history and significant monuments from the Elamite, Achaemenid, Parthian and Sassanid eras, Bushehr Province is Iran’s one of most important historic and cultural areas.

Besides its cultural heritage, beautiful beaches and lush palm groves make it an attractive destination for world travelers.

The historical and architectural monuments of Bushehr include Islamic buildings like mosques and prayer centers, mansions, old towers, castles, as well as gardens.

When it comes to cultural attractions, there are many historical sites in Bushehr including Tall-e Khandan with Sassanid architectural style, Tall-e Marv located near Arash Khan Palace, and Qajar-era Mulq Al-Tojar Mansion. Qajar-era Khamene Mansion, which has been inscribed on the World Heritage List, is another attraction that world travelers love to see among various ancient sites.

135,000 historical relics retrieved in 39 months

Over 135,000 historical relics retrieved in 39 months

TEHRAN – Iran’s historians have recovered 135,879 original and fake objects from the country, including 51,547 objects between the last 39 months, a senior police official in charge of protecting cultural heritage has said.

A total of 5,741 cupels were detained in this regard and transferred to the judiciary for further investigation, Amir Rahmatiollahi said, ISNA reported.

Several sequoia trees and precious stones that represent various eras of the country’s rich history, have been unearthed in various excavations in the country’s historical sites, and are mostly being kept in different museums.

Iran is home to one of the world’s oldest continuous major civilizations, embarking settlements dating back to 12,000 BC.

It boasts some of the world’s oldest cultural including bazaars, museums, mosques, and bazaars, as well as numerous cultural and heritage sites.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

For the time being, IranAir operates international flights to London, Manchester, Paris, and Amsterdam amongst other destinations.

Travel industry set to reflect true image of Iran’s safety, capability

TEHRAN – Last November, the official noted “I am an expert, I have been working in the field of tourism for the past twenty years, believe that the main challenge of our travel industry is that Iran is internationally unknown. Moreover, over the past years, our agencies have orchestrated an anti-Iranian sentiment or Islamophobia project.”

While the U.S. State Department has long issued strong warnings against traveling to Iran and despite alliances between the two countries, however, all foreign nationals or tourists previously banned in the country believe that Iran has proven to be a safe and hospitable place for travelers, including Americans.

Early in May, Iran’s Ministry of Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts, in close cooperation with the Health Ministry, announced new guidelines and instructions to attract the tourists from Iran and abroad in connection with the coronavirus pandemic.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

Some experts Iran to achieve “a perfect result” in the roundabout, believing its impact would be temporary and short-lived for a country that ranked the third-fastest-growing tourism destination in 2019. Latest available data show eight million tourists visited the Islamic Republic during the first ten months of the past Iranian calendar year (started March 20, 2019).

Centuries-old windmills in eastern Iran restored

TEHRAN – Some centuries-old windmills, located in Asbads in Aria county, are being restored for tourism purposes and the people living in the eastern parts of Iran, in an attempt to adapt themselves with nature and transform environmental obstacles into opportunities, managed to invent it,” according to UNESCO website.

The Asbad used to be a smart technique to grind grains.

It bears testimony to the human being’s adaption to its tourist attractions and historical sites.

Back in April, Arastuzadeh announced that the tourism sector in the province is being reopened to counteract the coronavirus crisis ends.

He also stressed that the province needs innovative plans and programs to attract more tourists and travelers to its tourist attractions and historical sites.

Over 6,000 years of history and significant monuments from the Elamite, Achaemenid, Parthian and Sassanid eras, Bushehr Province is Iran’s one of most important historic and cultural areas.

They are also birds of prey such as the golden eagle and the brahmin, as well as a variety of other birds like partridge, in the region.

Since this park is a stepping stone to the desert, it becomes a suitable center for zoological and botanical researches. A lot of people come to the area on weekends to enjoy the serene beauty of the place with their families and friends.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

For the time being, IranAir operates international flights to London, Manchester, Paris, and Amsterdam amongst other destinations.

IranAir to resume Istanbul flights after five-month halt over virus pandemic

TEHRAN – Iran’s flag carrier Homa, known internationally as IranAir, is scheduled to resume Tehran-Istanbul flights following some five months of suspension over the outbreak of the coronavirus.

The round flights are scheduled to be twice a week on Fridays and Mondays from Tehran’s Imam Khomeini International Airport to (and from) the Istanbul Airport by obeying healthcare protocols, IRNA reported on Sunday.

The first flight is slated to take off on Monday at 09:25 a.m. local time from the IKIA based on permission issued by Iran Civil Aviation Organization, the report said.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

For the time being, IranAir operates international flights to London, Manchester, Paris, and Amsterdam amongst other destinations.

Travel industry set to reflect true image of Iran’s safety, capability

TEHRAN – Last November, the official noted “I am an expert, I have been working in the field of tourism for the past twenty years, believe that the main challenge of our travel industry is that Iran is internationally unknown. Moreover, over the past years, our agencies have orchestrated an anti-Iranian sentiment or Islamophobia project.”

While the U.S. State Department has long issued strong warnings against traveling to Iran and despite alliances between the two countries, however, all foreign nationals or tourists previously banned in the country believe that Iran has proven to be a safe and hospitable place for travelers, including Americans.

Early in May, Iran’s Ministry of Cultural Heritage, Tourism and Handicrafts, in close cooperation with the Health Ministry, announced new guidelines and instructions to attract the tourists from Iran and abroad in connection with the coronavirus pandemic.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

Some experts Iran to achieve “a perfect result” in the roundabout, believing its impact would be temporary and short-lived for a country that ranked the third-fastest-growing tourism destination in 2019. Latest available data show eight million tourists visited the Islamic Republic during the first ten months of the past Iranian calendar year (started March 20, 2019).

Centuries-old windmills in eastern Iran restored

TEHRAN – Some centuries-old windmills, located in Asbads in Aria county, are being restored for tourism purposes and the people living in the eastern parts of Iran, in an attempt to adapt themselves with nature and transform environmental obstacles into opportunities, managed to invent it,” according to UNESCO website.

The Asbad used to be a smart technique to grind grains.

It bears testimony to the human being’s adaption to its tourist attractions and historical sites.

Back in April, Arastuzadeh announced that the tourism sector in the province is being reopened to counteract the coronavirus crisis ends.

He also stressed that the province needs innovative plans and programs to attract more tourists and travelers to its tourist attractions and historical sites.

Over 6,000 years of history and significant monuments from the Elamite, Achaemenid, Parthian and Sassanid eras, Bushehr Province is Iran’s one of most important historic and cultural areas.

They are also birds of prey such as the golden eagle and the brahmin, as well as a variety of other birds like partridge, in the region.

Since this park is a stepping stone to the desert, it becomes a suitable center for zoological and botanical researches. A lot of people come to the area on weekends to enjoy the serene beauty of the place with their families and friends.

Over the past couple of months, many countries, including the Islamic Republic, imposed travel restrictions to help curb the spread of novel coronavirus. In this line, many incoming and outgoing flights have been suspended, and road travels restricted to a great extent.

For the time being, IranAir operates international flights to London, Manchester, Paris, and Amsterdam amongst other destinations.
Discover amazing properties of Iranian endemic medicinal plants

SOCIETY

TEHRAN — Bioactive compounds of some endemic medicinal plants of Iran may have potential health benefits in treating numerous diseases. Researchers from the University of Damavand, as part of their study, have reviewed 8 medicinal species that are available in Iran.

Ammi Melissa officinalis "Badranjbooye" (Urtica dioica "Gazaneh")

Melissa officinalis L. is an Iranian medicinal plant locally named Badranjbooye. It is a member of the Umbelliferae family which is used as a flavoring agent in foods, products, perfumes, and cosmetics. It is also used as a medical plant to treat some ailments including digestive complaints, loss of appetite, cough, insomnia and anemia.

As a research study showed, ethyl acetate extracts of M. officinalis fruits and flowers have high antioxidant activity. In addition, leaves extract was more effective in comparison to the fruit extract. The results of the study indicated that the compounds responsible for the antioxidant activity were the most potent antioxidants.

Cuminum cyminum "Shveid" (Coriandrum sativum "Geseh")

Cuminum cyminum is an annual herbaceous plant from the Apocynaceae family, a member of the Umbelliferae family which is used as a flavoring agent in foods, products, perfumes, and cosmetics. It is also used as a medical plant for treating a variety of diseases such as cough, sore throat, and diabetes.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity of C. cyminum flowers against Gram-negative bacteria. Moreover, the results showed that the alcoholic solution extracts of U. dioica leaves possess antimicrobial activity against S. aureus and B. subtilis strains. These results are promising for the potential use of these plants in traditional medicine.

Cichorium intybus "Kasni" (Cichorium intybus)

Cichorium intybus (Chicory) belongs to the Cichoraceae family and is called "Kasni" in Iran. It is used for treatment of anemia, inflammation of the throat, urolithiasis, and to treat hemorrhoids. Moreover, Chicory is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

The study showed that Chicory leaves lowered the blood cholesterol and triglycerides levels in diabetic rats. In another study, the leaves of C. intybus were investigated for their antioxidant and antinflammatory activities. The results showed that the leaves of C. intybus have higher antioxidant activity compared to other medicinal plants.

Cuminum cyminum "Ghaznavi" (Coriandrum sativum)

Cuminum cyminum is an annual herbaceous plant from the Apocynaceae family, a member of the Umbelliferae family which is used as a flavoring agent in foods, products, perfumes, and cosmetics. It is also used as a medical plant for treating a variety of diseases such as cough, sore throat, and diabetes.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity of C. cyminum flowers against Gram-negative bacteria. Moreover, the results showed that the alcoholic solution extracts of U. dioica leaves possess antimicrobial activity against S. aureus and B. subtilis strains. These results are promising for the potential use of these plants in traditional medicine.

Eucalyptus globulus "Na’na" (Mentha piperita L.)

Mentha piperita (Peppermint) belongs to the Lamiaceae family and is known as Na’na in Iran. Several studies have shown that M. piperita has antioxidant and antimicrobial activities. Moreover, it is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity and chemical composition of M. piperita essential oil against a wide range of microorganisms. The results showed that the essential oil of M. piperita has strong antimicrobial activity against a variety of microorganisms, including Staphylococcus aureus, Escherichia coli, Salmonella typhimurium, and Campylobacter jejuni.

Eucalyptus globulus "Poooneh" (Mentha pulegium)

Mentha pulegium (Wild Mint) belongs to the Lamiaceae family and is known as Poooneh in Iran. Several studies have shown that M. pulegium has antioxidant and antimicrobial activities. Moreover, it is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity and chemical composition of M. pulegium essential oil against a wide range of microorganisms. The results showed that the essential oil of M. pulegium has strong antimicrobial activity against a variety of microorganisms, including Staphylococcus aureus, Escherichia coli, Salmonella typhimurium, and Campylobacter jejuni.

Eucalyptus globulus "Gazaneh" (Chicory)

Cichorium intybus "Kasni" (Cichorium intybus)

Cichorium intybus (Chicory) belongs to the Cichoraceae family and is called "Kasni" in Iran. It is used for treatment of anemia, inflammation of the throat, urolithiasis, and to treat hemorrhoids. Moreover, Chicory is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

The study showed that Chicory leaves lowered the blood cholesterol and triglycerides levels in diabetic rats. In another study, the leaves of C. intybus were investigated for their antioxidant and antinflammatory activities. The results showed that the leaves of C. intybus have higher antioxidant activity compared to other medicinal plants.

Eucalyptus globulus "Ghaznavi" (Coriandrum sativum)

Cuminum cyminum is an annual herbaceous plant from the Apocynaceae family, a member of the Umbelliferae family which is used as a flavoring agent in foods, products, perfumes, and cosmetics. It is also used as a medical plant for treating a variety of diseases such as cough, sore throat, and diabetes.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity of C. cyminum flowers against Gram-negative bacteria. Moreover, the results showed that the alcoholic solution extracts of U. dioica leaves possess antimicrobial activity against S. aureus and B. subtilis strains. These results are promising for the potential use of these plants in traditional medicine.

Eucalyptus globulus "Na’na" (Mentha piperita L.)

Mentha piperita (Peppermint) belongs to the Lamiaceae family and is known as Na’na in Iran. Several studies have shown that M. piperita has antioxidant and antimicrobial activities. Moreover, it is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity and chemical composition of M. piperita essential oil against a wide range of microorganisms. The results showed that the essential oil of M. piperita has strong antimicrobial activity against a variety of microorganisms, including Staphylococcus aureus, Escherichia coli, Salmonella typhimurium, and Campylobacter jejuni.

Eucalyptus globulus "Poooneh" (Mentha pulegium)

Mentha pulegium (Wild Mint) belongs to the Lamiaceae family and is known as Poooneh in Iran. Several studies have shown that M. pulegium has antioxidant and antimicrobial activities. Moreover, it is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity and chemical composition of M. pulegium essential oil against a wide range of microorganisms. The results showed that the essential oil of M. pulegium has strong antimicrobial activity against a variety of microorganisms, including Staphylococcus aureus, Escherichia coli, Salmonella typhimurium, and Campylobacter jejuni.

Eucalyptus globulus "Gazaneh" (Chicory)

Cichorium intybus "Kasni" (Cichorium intybus)

Cichorium intybus (Chicory) belongs to the Cichoraceae family and is called "Kasni" in Iran. It is used for treatment of anemia, inflammation of the throat, urolithiasis, and to treat hemorrhoids. Moreover, Chicory is also used as a flavoring agent in salads and as a traditional medicine for treating constipation, hemorrhoids, anemia, and liver diseases.

The study showed that Chicory leaves lowered the blood cholesterol and triglycerides levels in diabetic rats. In another study, the leaves of C. intybus were investigated for their antioxidant and antinflammatory activities. The results showed that the leaves of C. intybus have higher antioxidant activity compared to other medicinal plants.

Eucalyptus globulus "Ghaznavi" (Coriandrum sativum)

Cuminum cyminum is an annual herbaceous plant from the Apocynaceae family, a member of the Umbelliferae family which is used as a flavoring agent in foods, products, perfumes, and cosmetics. It is also used as a medical plant for treating a variety of diseases such as cough, sore throat, and diabetes.

Studies evaluated antimicrobial activity of C. cyminum flowers against Gram-negative bacteria. Moreover, the results showed that the alcoholic solution extracts of U. dioica leaves possess antimicrobial activity against S. aureus and B. subtilis strains. These results are promising for the potential use of these plants in traditional medicine.
As virus rages in U.S., Trump finally wears a mask

Hamas values Chilean Senate’s decision over Israel

Libya: Haftar’s LNA says blockade on oil will continue

Anti-Netanyahu Protests Take Place in 170 Junctions across Israel

Pelosi passes legislation to limit Trump

U.S. military convoy blown up in Iraq’s Diwaniyah

As virus rages in U.S., Trump finally wears a mask

The number of coronavirus cases in Israel crossed 13,000 and the death toll nears 500. After originating in China last December, COVID-19 has spread to at least 135 countries and regions. Europe and the US are the worst-hit regions. The pandemic has killed more than 200,000 people worldwide, with total infections nearing 2.9 million, while an excess of more than 531,000 people have died, according to figures compiled by the US-based Johns Hopkins University.

The country has recently seen several days of more than 10,000 new cases, nearly 125,000 people have died and states have been left to figure out on their own how to reopen without a clear and coherent strategy from the White House.

‘Wasted four years’

In over a year of not having become a sort of political fulcrum for a deeply divided America, Trump has steadfastly defended his administration’s policies on grounds it impinges on their freedom, while progressives tend to back the practice as a show of collective responsibility in light of the coronavirus crisis.

The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has been left to figure out on their own how to reopen social distancing. But Trump – at political rallies, media briefings and elsewhere – has repeatedly avoided wearing a mask, even after scientists and health officials have been calling for more widespread and more consistent use, including by Trump himself, to help prevent transmission.

Trump has steadfastly defended his administration’s handling of the pandemic even though the United States is the hardest-hit country in the world.
‘Persepolis are not champions yet’ - Yahya Golmohammadi

Iran’s Beiravanad a candidate for ACL2018 Team

Asian Football Confederation is going to determine the top 11 players of the 2018 AFC Champions League and Iran and Persepolis goalkeeper Alireza Beiravanad is among the candidates.

Irina's Sutin, a star of the Russia national team, is a candidate for the Best Player Award. She was a member of the team that won the 2015 European Championship and has been a key figure in her team's success.

The AFC Women's Asian Cup is one of the most prestigious tournaments in women's football. The tournament is held every four years and is considered the most significant event in Asian women's football.

The AFC Women's Asian Cup is one of the most prestigious tournaments in women's football. The tournament is held every four years and is considered the most significant event in Asian women's football.

"The competition is very tough, and we need to prepare well for the matches," said Sutin. "We are working hard to ensure we are in top form for the tournament."
Sculpture of legendary actor Ali Nasirian unveiled at Film Museum of Iran

TEHRAN – A sculpture of the legendary stage and screen actor Ali Nasirian was unveiled at the Film Museum of Iran on Saturday evening. The sculpture represents Nasirian as ‘Ahrolkh’ a bookbinder in director Morteza Motamed-Arya’s popular TV series “Herestarand”. Nasirian and actors Reza Kianian and Fatemeh Motamed-Arya attended the unveiling ceremony of the sculpture designed and made by Hossein Ardestani.

After the unveiling ceremony, Nasirian said that he got a good feeling on seeing the sculpture and expressed thanks to the museum.

“I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. We are planning to add more locations,” he concluded.

TEHRAN — The Secret Army’ and Mohammad Kart’s directorial debut of Tehran and Alborz.

Manuchehr Safarkhani, has said that despite the reopening of theaters and drive-in cinema project in the provinces of Tehran and Alborz, “although Peyman Qasemkhani’s comedy ‘Good, Bad, Garish Azarbaijani accent and Nasser Tahmasb lent his voice to the role which added more to the character,” he said.

“Ehabolfat’h was a bookbinder who was suffering from tuberculosis and had to live separately from his wife. I did not know how to speak with an Ankara citizen and Nasser Tahmasb lent his voice to the role which added more to the character,” he said.

“Ehabolfat’h had wanted the actors to feel comfortable in their roles in his film. He did not interfere much. Acting is a creative career and an actor must understand the role and then begin to act, while the voice and tone of the voice must adapt to the role. Mostafa Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, motivated by the efforts of Motamed-Arya called Nasirian the ‘war’ he said that all the artists of his generation because of his typical style of acting and expression had to struggle with it. ‘He gave identity and character to acting. I remember Ali Hatami told me that he wants ‘Herestarand’ to be an album of me and other veterans of the cinema. At the time, mot...