The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA. Americans grow up presuming that, as Secretary of State Colin Powell once said, ‘the United States is so far away from its own borders and intervention is so easy that those from the region are used to it.’ The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA, as President Donald Trump himself so often stated.

Iran ready to raise oil output to pre-sanction level

By BY FARROKH HESABI

TEHRAN – Managing Director of National Iranian South Oil Company (NISOC) said on Sunday that Iran is ready to rapidly increase its oil production back to the pre-sanction levels. I. R. A reported.

“Iran is ready to hold the deliberate reduction in oil production and increase its output to 10 percent of the pre-sanction level in just one year,” Masud Mohammadian said. The official noted that more than 80 percent of the country’s oil production capacity comes from the southern oil-rich regions, adding: “Given the government’s goal of exporting 3.5 million barrels of oil and gas condensate per day during the Iranian calendar year 1400 (begins on March 21), which is 50 percent higher than the mentioned figure will be produced in the southern oil-rich regions.”

Continued on page 4

Top IRGC commander: We can hit moving targets in the ocean

By TEHRAN – The commander of the Islamic Revolutionary Guards Corps (IRGC), Major General Hossein Salami, said on Saturday that targeting aircraft carriers and warships is a long-range ballistic missile’s main threat to Iran’s defense strategy.

Salami spoke at the final stage of the Great Prophet 35 military drill on Saturday, Stating: “One of the important goals in defense policies and strategies is to reach the ability to hit enemy warships, including aircraft carriers and warships, using long-range ballistic missiles. It is unusual to hunt moving targets in the sea by long-range cruise missiles, but using long-range missiles is a great defense breakthrough for us because we can hunt moving targets in the ocean from the heart of our land,” according to the Tasnim news agency.

The IRGC carried out the final stage of the drills on Saturday with strategic operations of long-range ballistic missiles that successfully hit mock enemy vessels and proved that Iran’s power is not only seen by the enemies in the region.

Continued on page 2

Spanish translation of “My Uncle Soleimani” appears in Venezuela

By TEHRAN – A Spanish translation of “My Uncle Soleimani,” a book that reflects the affection of the Iranian people for the late General Qassem Soleimani, has recently been published in Venezuela. Published by the F2 Fand International Publishing Centre, the book was introduced in the capital, Ghorbani, who is Ebrahim Sadeghi’s assistant coach at Saipa, talked about his Saipa’s victory over Zob Ahan in Tehran’s Azadi Stadium on Friday night.

“We can’t just play or a footballing philosophy at a youth level,” said the former Iranian national team assistant coach.

“This memorandum shows the determination of the two countries and said: ‘Despite the circumstances growing over the past 30 years, the government have bungled the coronavirus response. In Jerusalem, thousands marched through the city toward the Western Wall, the central site of the demonstrations in the capital, adjacent to the prime minister’s official residence, whenever the health chiefs met.

Hundred of protesters chanted a cold night in Jerusalem in what the New York Times described as a “protest march” to demand the resignation of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to “stop his disastrous misrule.” Demonstrations gathered at a Jerusalem square near Netanyahu’s official residence. The protesters have taken place in recent weeks. Netanyahu is charged with fraud, breach of trust and accepting bribes in three cases involving billion-dollar sanctions and media moguls, charges that he denies. The protesters insist Netanyahu cannot prop-

C-Continued on page 3

Together, the three Iranian trading partners have maintained the strength of their economies, and Iran has become a model for how to deal with challenging times.

Iran, Nicaragua to expand museum relations

By TEHRAN – The National Museum of Iran and the National Museum of Nicaragua have signed a Memorandum of Understanding to lay the groundwork for further cooperation.

The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA: American author

By Mohammad Mazhari

TEHRAN – An American author says topping governments around the world is one of Washington’s ‘specialties.’

“Overthrowing governments is one of our specialties,” Stephen Kriner tells the Tehran Times.

“I think of ‘exceptionalism’ as deeply ingrained in our national DNA,” Kriner tells the Tehran Times.

“Last week gave us a glimpse, on a greatly reduced scale, of the havoc we’ve wreaked elsewhere.”

U.S. administrations and institutes mostly back protests against governments all over the world but when it comes to the U.S., they rally around national integ-

terry. Isn’t that kind of double-standard?”

A: The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA. Americans grow up presuming that, as Secretary of State Madeleine Albright famously asserted, “We are the indispensable nation, we stand taller and we see further than other countries.”

Continued on page 3

Anti-Netanyahu protests resume across Israel for 30th week in a row

By Yehuda Deen

Thousands demonstrated against Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, and at traffic junctions, bridges and intersections nationwide the 30th week in a row on Saturday.

In Jerusalem, thousands marched through the city toward the Western Wall, the central site of the demonstrations in the capital, adjacent to the prime minister’s official residence, whenever the health chiefs met.

Hundred of protesters chanted a cold night in Jerusalem in what the New York Times described as a “protest march” to demand the resignation of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to “stop his disastrous misrule.” Demonstrations gathered at a Jerusalem square near Netanyahu’s official residence. The protesters have taken place in recent weeks. Netanyahu is charged with fraud, breach of trust and accepting bribes in three cases involving billion-dollar sanctions and media moguls, charges that he denies. The protesters insist Netanyahu cannot prop-

C-Continued on page 3

Together, the three Iranian trading partners have maintained the strength of their economies, and Iran has become a model for how to deal with challenging times.

Iran, Nicaragua to expand museum relations

By TEHRAN – The National Museum of Iran and the National Museum of Nicaragua have signed a Memorandum of Understanding to lay the groundwork for further cooperation.

The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA: American author

By Mohammad Mazhari

TEHRAN – An American author says topping governments around the world is one of Washington’s ‘specialties.’

“Overthrowing governments is one of our specialties,” Stephen Kriner tells the Tehran Times.

“I think of ‘exceptionalism’ as deeply ingrained in our national DNA,” Kriner tells the Tehran Times.

“Last week gave us a glimpse, on a greatly reduced scale, of the havoc we’ve wreaked elsewhere.”

U.S. administrations and institutes mostly back protests against governments all over the world but when it comes to the U.S., they rally around national integ-

terry. Isn’t that kind of double-standard?”

A: The idea of “exceptionalism” is deeply ingrained in our national DNA. Americans grow up presuming that, as Secretary of State Madeleine Albright famously asserted, “We are the indispensable nation, we stand taller and we see further than other countries.”

Continued on page 3

Anti-Netanyahu protests resume across Israel for 30th week in a row

By Yehuda Deen

Thousands demonstrated against Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, and at traffic junctions, bridges and intersections nationwide the 30th week in a row on Saturday.

In Jerusalem, thousands marched through the city toward the Western Wall, the central site of the demonstrations in the capital, adjacent to the prime minister’s official residence, whenever the health chiefs met.

Hundred of protesters chanted a cold night in Jerusalem in what the New York Times described as a “protest march” to demand the resignation of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to “stop his disastrous misrule.” Demonstrations gathered at a Jerusalem square near Netanyahu’s official residence. The protesters have taken place in recent weeks. Netanyahu is charged with fraud, breach of trust and accepting bribes in three cases involving billion-dollar sanctions and media moguls, charges that he denies. The protesters insist Netanyahu cannot prop-

C-Continued on page 3

Together, the three Iranian trading partners have maintained the strength of their economies, and Iran has become a model for how to deal with challenging times.
Iran officially warned the U.S. of legal action for harassing diplomats

Iran has warned the US ahead of the return of President Joe Biden to the White House, saying the US would be “holding” Iran’s remaining interests here if it fails to lift sanctions imposed after Washington withdrew from the 2015 nuclear deal.

US sanctions are still in force, despite a 2016 agreement between Iran and the US under which Iran agreed to limit its enrichment of uranium and develop nuclear technology to a peaceful purpose.

In a statement on Saturday, Iran’s Foreign Ministry spokesman Saeed Khatibzadeh said Iran has officially warned the US that it will start imposing sanctions on the US government for “illegal actions against Iranian diplomats”.

“Through the combination of new missile capabilities and drone operations, Iran is creating maximum pressure on its enemies.”

Top IRGC commander: We can hit moving targets in the heart of the ballast heavily equipped) hammer missiles in central Iran that hit their land targets.”

In remarks on January 12, Pompeo said Iran was trying to “study the US and the region to weaken Iran.”

The top French diplomat made no mention of the nuclear talks, saying, “No one will be deceived. All the terrorists involved in 9/11 event will be needed to curb proliferation and (what he called) Iran’s ‘close’ cooperation with several other JCPOA participants.”

In a statement released by the US embassy in Tehran, the ambassador, Carol L. Scholl, said, “The targeting of diplomats of Iran and other countries does not reflect government policies and is contrary to international law.”

According to the nuclear deal, Iran is not to enrich uranium beyond 3.67% and must cut its low-enriched uranium stockpile to a maximum of 204 tons. Iran has so far failed to adhere to the nuclear deal because it was imposed by the US and the other world powers. Iran has carried out its commitments under the nuclear deal, and the US has failed to meet its obligations under the deal. Iran has also warned that it will increase its enrichment activities if the US does not lift its sanctions.
Iran desteems rumors about South Korean ship, says legal proceedings underway

TEHRAN — Saeed Khatibzadeh, the spokesperson for Iran's Foreign Ministry, has rejected reports by South Korean media that Iran is considering a possible release of a South Korean ship recently impounded by Iran for alleged offenses.

In a statement on Thursday, Khatibzadeh said that South Korean media reports about the possible release of the ship are mere speculations. He stressed that Khatibzadeh said that the South Korean ship's seizure was based on South Korea's request to impound the ship due to a technical issue.

The South Korean shipping company that owns the ship, has confirmed that the ship is impounded for pollution-related violations. The company said that it is cooperating with the authorities to resolve the matter.

Iranian Foreign Ministry spokesman Khatibzadeh said that the Iranian government has not made any decision on the release of the ship and that it is up to the judiciary to make the final decision on the case.

Iran has named its first ambassador to South Korea in over 20 years, as part of efforts to improve ties between the two countries.

The appointment of Reza Jalali as the new ambassador comes after a string of high-level meetings between Iran and South Korea, including a visit by Iranian Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif to Seoul last month.

Jalali, who previously served as Iran's ambassador to Malaysia, has been nominated by the Iranian government for the role, which is expected to be confirmed by the parliament.

The move is seen as a positive step towards strengthening bilateral relations between the two countries, which have been strained over a range of issues, including Iran's nuclear program and the dispute over the 2007 sinking of the South Korean corvette Cheonan.

Jalali is expected to arrive in South Korea in the coming weeks to assume his new post, which is seen as an important step in efforts to revive diplomatic ties between the two nations.
Iran can ready oil output to pre-sanction level

1st shipment of Indian equipment arrives in Chabahar port

Steel products output increases 9.5%
The idea of ‘exceptionalism’ is deeply ingrained in our national DNA: American doctor ‘topping government one of Washington’s specialties’

To replace the governments we occupy so readily with our own is a difficult but possible political challenge. Why did you publish a tweet saying: “We need to keep America ahead of the curve?”

There can be no coup in the United States, not even a cyber coup, or an assassination of the U.S. embassy there? The joke is that most countries in most countries have history not for domestic reasons, but because of interesting things happening in or from the U.S. embassy. This is not a completely true, but terribly valuable for the joke.

Is there any mechanism in the American constitution to prosecute a precedent in an emergency?

We have no impeachment procedure, but it is political in nature, not legal. In the U.S. as in most countries, politics often is more powerful than the law.

The Democratic Party of U.S. Presi- dent Joe Biden has control of the Senate. Do you expect Biden to lead to a change in U.S. policies, especially in foreign poli- cies areas?

The Democratic Party of U.S. President Joe Biden has control of the Senate. Do you expect Biden to lead to a change in U.S. policies, especially in foreign policy?

In the midst of a global crime. How do you assess American police’s behavior after pro-Trump fans stormed the U.S. Capitol?

It is the subject of intense debate behind the scenes, and the incoming Biden administration.

Now the U.S. faces the threat of “insurrection and demagogy” at home.

Now the U.S. faces the threat of “insurrection and demagogy” at home.

Compliance for-compliance approach needed to reinitate JCPOA: Harvard researcher

In a perfect world, diplomacy would be direct and unambiguous. But this is, unfortunately, not the world we live in. The JCPOA, or the Iran Nuclear Deal, is a complex document that has been signed, witnessed, and enforced by multiple parties. It is up to the signatories to ensure the mechanisms of the agreement are robust and effective. This is why it is critical to address any compliance issues with the agreement in a constructive and cooperative manner.

U.S. states brace for potential violence before Biden inauguration

State officials across the United States are preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

Laschet succeeds Merkel as German CDU party leader

German Chancellor Angela Merkel’s party has decided to keep its course.

Fresh protests in France against controversial security bill

Tens of thousands of protesters marched across France Saturday to denounce a security bill critics say would restrict the freedom of police and create a state of emergency.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Mahmoud Abbas, Palestinian Authority President, issued on Friday evening an official decree setting the date for the general elections.

Resistance News

On Saturday, the center-right Christian Democratic Union (CDU) elected Armin Laschet, the premier of the German state of North Rhine-Westphalia, as its new leader.

U.S. COVID vaccines cause illness and deaths

The U.S. state of Arizona is preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

U.S. and Mexico call for peace in U.S.-Mexico border region

U.S. authorities are planning to construct a new border wall in the region.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas has issued a decree setting the date for general elections in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

U.S. states brace for potential violence before Biden inauguration

State officials across the United States are preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

Laschet succeeds Merkel as German CDU party leader

German Chancellor Angela Merkel’s party has decided to keep its course.

Fresh protests in France against controversial security bill

Tens of thousands of protesters marched across France Saturday to denounce a security bill critics say would restrict the freedom of police and create a state of emergency.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Mahmoud Abbas, Palestinian Authority President, issued on Friday evening an official decree setting the date for the general elections.

Resistance News

On Saturday, the center-right Christian Democratic Union (CDU) elected Armin Laschet, the premier of the German state of North Rhine-Westphalia, as its new leader.

U.S. COVID vaccines cause illness and deaths

The U.S. state of Arizona is preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

U.S. and Mexico call for peace in U.S.-Mexico border region

U.S. authorities are planning to construct a new border wall in the region.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas has issued a decree setting the date for general elections in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

U.S. states brace for potential violence before Biden inauguration

State officials across the United States are preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

Laschet succeeds Merkel as German CDU party leader

German Chancellor Angela Merkel’s party has decided to keep its course.

Fresh protests in France against controversial security bill

Tens of thousands of protesters marched across France Saturday to denounce a security bill critics say would restrict the freedom of police and create a state of emergency.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Mahmoud Abbas, Palestinian Authority President, issued on Friday evening an official decree setting the date for the general elections.

Resistance News

On Saturday, the center-right Christian Democratic Union (CDU) elected Armin Laschet, the premier of the German state of North Rhine-Westphalia, as its new leader.

U.S. COVID vaccines cause illness and deaths

The U.S. state of Arizona is preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

U.S. and Mexico call for peace in U.S.-Mexico border region

U.S. authorities are planning to construct a new border wall in the region.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas has issued a decree setting the date for general elections in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.

U.S. states brace for potential violence before Biden inauguration

State officials across the United States are preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

Laschet succeeds Merkel as German CDU party leader

German Chancellor Angela Merkel’s party has decided to keep its course.

Fresh protests in France against controversial security bill

Tens of thousands of protesters marched across France Saturday to denounce a security bill critics say would restrict the freedom of police and create a state of emergency.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Mahmoud Abbas, Palestinian Authority President, issued on Friday evening an official decree setting the date for the general elections.

Resistance News

On Saturday, the center-right Christian Democratic Union (CDU) elected Armin Laschet, the premier of the German state of North Rhine-Westphalia, as its new leader.

U.S. COVID vaccines cause illness and deaths

The U.S. state of Arizona is preparing for potentially violent demonstrations in support of President Donald Trump as they brace for the upcoming inauguration of President-elect Joe Biden.

U.S. and Mexico call for peace in U.S.-Mexico border region

U.S. authorities are planning to construct a new border wall in the region.

Abbas issues decree setting date for general elections

Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas has issued a decree setting the date for general elections in the West Bank and Gaza Strip.
Iranian, Japanese museums discuss conservation, exploitation of cultural heritage

TEHRAN — Experts from the National Museum of Iran and the Museum of Toky University of Japan have expressed cooperation in various museology areas during a webinar on Wednesday.

The webinar, moderated by Masoud Imanol, director general of the Cultural Heritage, Tourism, and Handicrafts Ministry, was also attended by officials of Iran’s Research Institute of Cultural Properties, and the National Cultural Heritage, and was covered by the National Museum told the Tehran Times.

Coordinator of the event was the director of the National Museum, and Kaores Yamashito of the Tokyo University, the webinar included the presentation of two talks and a five lectures on cooperation between the two museums, as well as exploitation and protection of cultural heritage.

Irani, Nicaragua to expand museum relations

TEHRAN — Iran has been selected as the vice-chairman of the Committee for the Review of Affiliated Members of the World Tourism Organization (UNWTO), one of the specialized panels of the World Tourism Organization.

The selection was made during an online meeting held this month by the organs of the International mobile applications and webinars, to be able to plan for future cooperation and projects.

In the meeting, the Tehran Times quoted Reza Borouand, the provincial director of tourism.

"Fortunately, reports indicate that no damage has been inflicted to the historical texture of Bandar-e Kong and history buildings which have come on stream, he added. This volume of projects have been commenced across the country, some of which have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have been transferred to the traditional hospitality sector and have 24,000 years old to modern paintings and recent sculptures."
Iran trying to start mass COVID-19 vaccination by next two months

Iranian government submits ‘violence against women’ bill to parliament

U.S. adds Iranian COVID-19 vaccine developers to sanctions list

Tehran Subway offering free-of-charge COVID-19 tests

Sierra Leone appreciates IRCs health services

Knowledge-based companies unite to counter coronavirus

English in use

Learning News translation
Iran’s “Coexist”, “Quarantine”, “The Note” honored at Mehidlo visual media festival

The silver prize went to the short film “The Note” for its story about a father whose book to the near-finished novel at relatively high prices. He also tries to celebrate his son’s birthday, while his family has been separated due to the war. The film will run until January 20 at the gallery that can be found at No. 54, 8th Alley, No. 15, Tehran, Iran.

The exhibit will include several other artists, including Yalda Jokar, Shima Lesani, Saeed (Tavanir) St. near Vanak Sq.

A collection of paintings by Mehdi Mahdianforoush and the phrase “Art is in view” in an exhibition at Negar Gallery.

The exhibit will run until January 10 at the gallery located at 97, Bimeh Alley, Nejatollahi St., Tehran, Iran.

The exhibition “In Search of Prophet Muhammad (S)” will run until February 2 at the gallery located at 51, Sardar Rezaie St., Tehran, Iran.

Movies from Iran line up for Bangladesh children’s festival

Front cover of the book Bjorn Larsson’s novel “Dead Poets Don’t Die.”

The exhibit run will finish on February 3 at the gallery located at 47, Ghalili St., 5th Alley, 9th Alley, Tehran, Iran.

The exhibit “In Search of Meaning” will run until January 23 at the gallery that can be found at No. 5, 8th Alley, Kha-Ni, Tehran, Iran.

The exhibit “Ocean Behind the Window” created by Bahram Nabizadeh and “Metamorphosis in the Slab House” created by Jarad Danes will be screened in the feature film competition. “Ocean Behind the Window” centers on a small and remote island where people live under hardship. Bahram who has made an interesting decision to help his family and to introduce the island he collects a group, holds a carnival and performs traditional music and theater for the villagers on the island, also other villagers and more tourists come, but there is a big problem with the exhibition. “Metamorphosis in the Slab House” is about Shad, a young girl from a village who has been living with her family. Her parents had been accused of murdering a girl from the village and sent to prison. Then he collects the island’s natural salt and edible soil to bake the bread. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the awards ceremony was held virtually. In a video message published by the organizers, Soheili said, “It’s such an honor and a pleasure for me and the team, and receiving an award provided such great energy to start the year with.”

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.

In the Dramatic Short category, the gold prize went to “The Exile” by Baha’i. The film, which is about the killing of a “Casual” by a police officer in Iran, has been awarded the gold medal in the graphic category.

In the Short Film category, the gold prize went to “The Note”, a film about a man who wakes up and finds himself in bed in a hotel room. The film’s theme is “We Are All In This Together–Unforgettable Moment” which is about a man who wakes up and finds himself in bed in a hotel room.

The Meihodo International Youth Visual Media Festival is one of the largest short film festivals in the world. It is an independent visual media festival sponsored by Mehidlo, a Japanese corporation, and is aimed at young visual artists worldwide. The festival offers opportunities for international exchange and collaboration, and aims to support the development of young visual artists.

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.

The Alhoda International Cultural, Artistic and Publishing Institute published the book “Coexist”. The book contains interviews with all political and religious officials, experts and analysts. “Characteristics of the School of Martyr Soleimani”, a book giving a brief analysis of the personal characteristics of Commander Qassem Soleimani through his discourses and memories, has been published in its centre of the book. The book originally was written by Hajijeh Soltani, a species of Iran and published by Khig Mahdianforoush Publications. The book has been published in Afghanistan, Russia, Yemen, Germany, Ecuador and Colombia by the publisher.